Crawford County Sheriff Joe White reported a heavy week of activity for his deputies. Most of the serious activity revolved around three accidents, one which sent five people to the hospital on Saturday.

Two other accidents also took place last weekend which resulted in injuries to drivers.

According to Sheriff's deputies one accident involved a single driver, Laurie Jo Gaylor, of Roscommon was injured when her car apparently missed a stop sign and she left the road at the corner of M-93 and Military Road. The accident occurred at 11:48 p.m. on Sunday.

In another personal injury accident a car driven by John A. Burris, Of Olmsted, Ohio apparently rolled over and Burris was taken to Mercy Hospital where he is still being treated. The accident occurred Saturday at the M-72 Manistee River Bridge.

In other activity, the department was called to a myriad of complaints, including: 9 B & E's, 9 Ambulance Runs, 9 Property Damage Accidents, 6 Malicious Destructions, 2 D.U.I.'s, 2 Prowler calls, 6 Larcenies, 1 fight, 1 Assault, and 3 Loud Party Complaints.

State's Leading Barbershop Quartet to Sing at Grayling

Michigan's champion barbershop quartet, the Sounds Around, newly returned from the International Competition at Salt Lake City, will be the featured entertainers for "An Evening of Barbershop," to be sponsored by the AuSable Valley Chapter of the Barbershop Society.

The program will be presented at 8 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 2, in the auditorium of the Grayling High School.

As champions of the Pioneer District of the internationally famous Barbershop Society, Sounds Around also is the ranking barbershop quartet of the Province of Ontario. This four-some was the Pioneer District's leading competing quartet after winning the district's spring competition at Ann Arbor last April.

In addition to this outstanding foursome, the host AuSable Valley Chapter has engaged the leading quartet of the Lansing Barbershop Chapter, the Collector's Choice.

Robert Harris, chapter musical director, promises a well rehearsed list of authentic barbershop songs including old favorites and sentimental ballads, some to be heard in Grayling for the first time.

Norman Pike, general manager of Radio Stations WHGR and WJGS-FM at Houghton Lake will be master of ceremonies.

An afterglow will be held at the Shoppenagon Motor Hotel in downtown Grayling after the show.

Smock Archery 4th in Alpenfest Tourney

Smock Archery traveled to Gaylord on July 18, 19 & 20th to compete in the annual Alpenfest Softball Tournament. This year's field was comprised of twenty four teams from throughout Michigan.

With some hot hitting, Smock Archery handily defeated Der-Biergarten of Gaylord 15 to 7 on Friday night.

Saturday's action continued at a hot hitting pace, with Smock Archery defeating Treco of Detroit 15 to 8. That victory set the stage for the Division I Championship Game with Smock Archery against Pickford. Led on by an intense and overwhelming desire to win, Smock Archery pulled off an exciting nine inning victory of 12 to 9.

In honest pursuit of the coveted first place, rains served to cool Smock Archery's bats as they were defeated 6 to 3 by Ceryoes Pizza of Detroit and 13 to 3 by Yankee Boy of Cadillac. They ended the tournament in fourth place. Coach, Clayton Brown, commented: "Smock Archery, a team comprised solely of Crawford County ballplayers, is definitely making their presence felt in the tournament softball world of stacked teams. We thank everyone for their support."

Thank You! You Generous Blood Donors!

At 6:01 p.m. last Wednesday Evening, the 125th Donor walked into the American Legion Hall to make the July 16th BLOOD BANK a total success!

The goal was 125, but at 4 p.m. when only 62 Donors had come in it looked like we were going to fail to make our commitment, but late appeals through the courtesy of WGRY and WQON brought 19 of you wonderful Blood Donors in at the last 31 minutes to restore our faith and confidence and really make our day complete.

It was almost 7 p.m. when the last Donor left after having her cookies and lemonade; and it was after 7:30 p.m. before the Red Cross Nurses had cleaned, sterilized, and repacked their equipment ready for the next day's Bank; and still later till the truck was loaded, sealed, and ready to start the run back to the Blood Center at Flint.

It had been a long day, starting well before 10 a.m. and there were some very tired, but very satisfied, Red Cross Volunteers starting home for dinner and some rest for their weary bones.

Your generosity made it all worth while; and some good folks in Michigan are going to have their surgery scheduled a little sooner and be a little safer, thanks to you.

And again, our deep appreciation to the thorough cooperation and support of The Avalanche, WGRY and WQON. There would not have been 125 Donors without your generous support.

and Michigan and even several from Canada. And according to Capt. Joe Meridith, airfield commander at Grayling Army Airfield, this large concentration of helicopters causes some concerns in the local area. He feels these concerns are largely the result of public unawareness as to the mission of Army aviation and to the operating procedures mandated by the Department of Defense to insure aircrew and aircraft survivability in any future conflicts.

"During the Vietnam War, Army aviation, and helicopters in particular, suffered severe casualties from the practice of flying 1,000 to 5,000 feet above the ground," Capt. Meridith explained. The Vietnam veteran went on to say, "In the face of these terrible, unacceptable losses, the Army was forced to make major changes in the doctrine which governed the use of helicopters in combat. The concept which was developed, and in 1976 put into effect at Camp Grayling, was Nap-of-the-earth or NOE flying.

"This technique involves the aircraft flying as close to the terrain as possible, i.e., following the contour of the land, avoiding trees, hovering just above the ground, etc. One of the major reasons we receive complaints from local citizens is that to a casual observer, a helicopter utilizing this technique can appear to be "joy-riding" or "fooling around." I can assure the people of Grayling and the surrounding area, that this is not the case at all. Nap-of-the-earth flying is probably the most difficult assignment a pilot can receive, because it takes maximum skill and split-second timing to master this maneuver correctly.

NO FLAT TIRES are little consolation to the tankers who maintain the tracks of the 50 ton M-48A5 tanks being used by Ohio Army National Guardsmen at Camp Grayling. PVT. Milo C. Otis, above, a member of G Troop, 2/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment tightens the bolts holding his tank tracks together. This is just one small detail that could mean the difference between success or failure in combat or in training.

Annual Training Is Attention to Detail

MAJ. Steve Stone

Tanks never have flat tires. They have none to go flat. However, that brings little joy to the hearts of the tankers who operate and maintain the 50 ton giants.

Instead of flats, the rubber and steel tracks upon which the tank rolls are notorious for coming off—either from poor maintenance or from being blown off by enemy explosives. Each track weighs about two tons. Tankers consider putting one on a pain in the back, both figuratively and literally. Therefore, they make an extra effort to see that the tracks are in top shape before moving to the field.

PVT Milo C. Otis, a member of G Troop, 2/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment learned from his training at the Armor School, Ft. Knox, Kentucky, that there is no way he can jack up his tank and replace a thrown track as he might on an automobile. Such a break-down could put his unit into a bad position on a field exercise or in actual combat. So PVT Otis, as a tank driver undergoing two weeks of annual training here with the Ohio Army National Guard, takes care to see that the bolts holding his tank's tracks together are tightened properly.

Learning to attend to even the smallest detail is just one part of the training currently taking place at Camp Grayling. Nearly 1200 members of the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment have been firing the main gun and machine guns on various tank ranges and engaging in tactical field exercises. Many of the

If you are 65 or older, additional school millage will not cost you an extra penny. A special property tax law designed to protect seniors from having to pay a higher percentage of their incomes to keep their homes in on the books in Michigan. The law limits property taxes to a fixed percent of a person's yearly income. Since many seniors live on a fixed income, this law plays a large role in allowing many seniors to keep their homes without having to pay prohibitively high property taxes.

As a result, even if a school millage increases, a senior's property taxes won't increase if their yearly income remains the same. Generally, this law places the burden of supporting schools on those citizens most

Head-on Crash Injures Five Last Saturday

A serious accident which sent 5 people to Grayling's Mercy Hospital, marked one of the Sheriff's busiest weeks of the summer. According to Sheriff's Deputies a east bound car driven by Chris Ahler, 21 of Grand Rapids apparently crossed the center line about fifty feet west of the M-72 Manistee River Bridge and collided head-on with a west bound car driven by James Kareck, 48 of Grand Blanc.

Three passengers in the Ahler car, Debra Shaw, 22, Angelle Frost, 16 and Macheille McDaniels, 14, all Grand Rapids, were treated and released. Both drivers were treated at Mercy Hospital and transferred to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City.

Deputies attributed a partial cause of the accident to heavy pedestrian and vehicle traffic in the bridge area.

In addition, to two ambulances, the Grayling Fire Department was also called to the scene. The accident which occurred at approximately 9:25 a.m. Saturday, is still under investigation by the Sheriff's Department.

Local Administrator Participates In National Workshop

Stuart E. Lawrence, Director of Library at Kirtland Community College, joined approximately 70 other administrators of the performing arts in a unique "hands-on" approach to the development of a complete performing arts season at the ACUCAA Basic Workshop for Performing Arts Administrators, held July 6-11 in Kalamazoo, Michigan.
 This major training program, sponsored by the Association of College, University, and Community Arts Administrators, a national non-profit organization for arts administrators, was designed to benefit both newcomers and experienced administrators in the field. The week-long session focused on small group case studies in which participants fashioned a workable performing arts season for an assigned university or community, using demographics, retail trade data, information about industrial development, and other pertinent data to develop a successful approach. Workshops participants explored topics such as season planning, finding and selecting artists, negotiating and contracting, market planning, and arts advocacy in general sessions throughout the week in a step-by-step approach to the case studies.
 Sessions were conducted by nationally prominent professors: William Dawson, executive director of ACUCAA; Sid McQueen of the University of Michigan-Flint; Ralph Sander of the University of Wisconsin-Madison; Toni Sikes, assistant director of ACUCAA; Timothy Van Leer from Ohio State University; Jerry Willis from the California Institute of Technology; James Wocken-fuss of the University of Iowa; and Gordon Smith from Western Michigan University, which co-hosted the event.
 Stuart E. Lawrence, who describes the experience as "most exhilarating" feels the practical experience he gained at the workshop will be of great value in administering a cultural affairs program for Kirtland Community College.

From Our Corner ...

If you have ever wondered what Michigan Avenue looks like at 4:00 o'clock in the morning...look no further than above...the photo was taken by Mike Delp as he and LeRoy were leaving for Mt. Pleasant last Wednesday morning to have the Avalanche printed.

We're in some sort of a quandary tonight in getting this turkey on the road...we returned Sunday evening from our R & R at Boyne Mountain attending the Michigan Press Association summer conference, and was feeling well relaxed as we came in to Grayling with only the thought of stopping at the office for a few minutes to check over the mail and see what we had to look forward to Monday morning...

We should have gone AWOL...when we left Thursday evening we looked forward to just helping to put together a 12 page section A by Tuesday evening...not so...by the time we weeded through the letters and the advertisement schedule we realized section A had to be 16 pages...our weekend was nearly spoiled by the thought...

Our quandary is this...we don't have very much to fill this week's corner, but, we still have all that space to fill, and we are naturally at our Monday night deadline again...with a blank mind...

We will comment once again on what has become of one of our favorite topics...once again we travelled west and twice we had to cross the M-72 railroad tracks which would be a disgrace to any city to have to put up with...Grayling's only salvation is the thought that come fall the Michigan State Highway Commission will have installed a brand new crossing, eliminating some of the tracks...beautiful, won't it be?

For our family readers only...seeing as how we had to go near T.C. we took our dog Muff with us so that T.J. and Stef could dog sit for us on Thursday, returned Sunday to pick her up...when we got there they told us we missed a storm Saturday night that nearly had John, Toni, T.J., Stef, Muff and their pony Charcoal all in one bed...up at Boyne there was alot of thunder and a couple bolts of lightning and some rain...grandma slept through it all, we rolled over and went back to sleep...that's how fierce it was at Boyne...

An idle thought...now that election time is right around the corner wouldn't it be nice if we could vote for our bureaucrats that overlord us more than our elected officials...we are sure it would be a different story when they had to rely on satisfying their constituents, instead just saying it can't be done, and knowing their job is not in jeopardy...

Our congratulations to managers Tom Trenary and Vern LaDuke and the Grayling Senior Division Little League All-Stars on your victories last weekend over Boyne City and Gaylord, and we wish you guys the best of luck in your game against Charlevoix in the District Semi-finals...

We understand the AuSable Canoe Marathon is coming up this Friday evening...the Avalanche, as of now, has not had one word of publicity about it...the number of teams entered, any side events that will be going on prior to the race, nothing...we do not know who is handling the publicity for this going on some 30 odd years race, We interject this only for the purpose that we do not want people saying the Avalanche didn't carry a thing about this traditional canoe marathon...we are not crystal ball gazers and we cannot conjure up a story that we know nothing about...without our papers support, we do hope the marathon will have the same huge success that it has been in the past...

Just a tid-bit, we had a reader ask us a few days ago, how come the major businesses and professional people don't have easy numbers to remember, like 348-1234, just a tid-bit...

If we hurry and close this turkey, we will be able to get home for about 45 minutes of day light out in the back yard with dog Muff, she's not retired like Zing...have a nice weekend...we have been waiting for summer a long time...

INTERESTING ITEMS OF NEWS GATHERED FROM THE FILES OF THE AVANCE OF 23 YEARS AGO.

23 Years Ago July 25, 1957

Mr. and Mrs. James Bassett announce the engagement of their daughter Dianna Jean to Gerald V. Mavel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mavel, of New Boston, Mich. Wedding plans are indefinite.

A 14 page article complete with 17 colorful photographs in the August issue of Holiday Magazine pays tribute to the great state of Michigan. It is authored by Bruce Catton, a native son who is a Pulitzer prize winner.

Mrs. Charles W. Decker of Grayling wishes to announce the engagement of her daughter, Betty Ann, to James Edward Cornell, Jr., the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Cornell, Sr., of Brown City. The wedding date is indefinite.

Guests for two weeks at the Richard Williams cottage at Lake Margrethe were Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Bowerman and son Andy, Mrs. Edward Geissel and Mrs. Bonnie Schramm and daughter Kippy, all of Whitefish Bay, Wisc.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Papendick and family spent the weekend in Mt. Morris, visiting the Richard Millers.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoffman and children Mike and Bridget attended a Hoffman family reunion Sunday. It was held at the Thomas Township Hall in Saginaw. Of the fifty-some attending the dinner, Miss Bridget was the youngest. The day was too hot for exercise, so the time was spent in conversation. A luncheon at five in the afternoon ended the day.

Mrs. Glen Fenton and daughter Peggy drove to Holland, Wednesday, to spend the weekend visiting their daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holtcamp. Miss Peggy remained until this Thursday, when the Holtcamps were to bring her here and visit their families, the Charles Holtcamps and Mrs. Fenton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piper and Miss Holly were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Jarrard, Sr., and family at Lake Geneva, Wisc. Mr. Piper flew home on Sunday while Mrs. Piper and Holly remained in Chicago for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Papendick were the hosts to the Q.C. Club Saturday night. Dinner was enjoyed by the club members. Mrs. Oscar Goss won the door prize for the ladies, while William Jensen won it for the men.

Mr. and Mrs. William Moshier were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Milster of Owosso, at Mullet Lake. Last Thursday Mrs. Wilber Alles, of Battle Creek, a former sorority sister of Mrs. Moshier at Alma, stopped in for a visit.

Mrs. Arnold Rotermund drove to Camp Sancta Maria Sunday to bring home her son Kurt, who had spent the last month there as counselor.

Two years Grayling staged a Canoe Carnival and it was such a success that those who made the trip are still talking about it. And Grayling has been besieged with inquiries since, as to when we were going to have another one. "Spike" MacNeven, Blackie Levan and Holger F. Peterson have been doing some secret planning and finally sprung the glad news of another Canoe Carnival for Grayling. A three-day program has been set for August 10, 11, and 12. The committee is working out the details and they will present the doings for three days in a later issue.

Mrs. Charles Corwin, Mrs. Chris Hoesli and the former's mother, Mrs. Frank Barber of Roscommon are in Lansing this week attending the programs of Farm Women's week at Michigan State College.

Misses Yvonne LaGrow and Muriel DelaMater had as their guests over the weekend, Don Richards and Albert Stensing of Muskegon.

Mrs. Elizabeth Matson left for Detroit Tuesday morning where she will act as counselor at the Wayne County Xmas Seal camp for the remainder of the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lemke, Jr., and Mr. William Lemke, Sr., of Cleveland, Oh., are spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. Hans R. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. James Cariveau and children, Madonna and Francis, of Jackson, are spending two weeks at the home of Mrs. Cariveau's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Carlefour.

Bud Hunter of Jackson was a guest at the Maurice Gorman home for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer VanNatter and children have returned to their home in Cadillac after visiting for some time at the Rufus Edmonds home in Maple Forest.

69 Years Ago July 27, 1911

"Happy Mike" Brenner, chief of Grayling's police force and Taylor, his assistant, were caught in a squall Portage Lake last Sunday afternoon. In order to keep the boat from capsizing they were compelled to let it drift with the "waves", beaching it about half way from Collen's landing where they wanted to go. Searching parties were out to find them, and it was by building huge fires on the shore of the lake at night that the weary wanderers were safely guided back to anxious friends, after about five hours of wandering in this previously unexplored jungle. Besides all this calamity Mike was worrying about his official responsibilities at home. He had in his pocket the keys to the electric light plant, also to the night alarm system at the Salling Hanson Co's. store. Grayling was in darkness and the faithful guardian of all within her portals was lost and could not be found.

Approximately 12,000 horse-power of electrical energy will be at the disposal of Saginaw Valley early next year—possibly from the first of January—from Cook's dam, the first of fifteen dams which are to harness the power of the AuSable River.

Gilbert Vallad of Maple Forest reports a fine crop of hay in that town, but early potatoes very light on account of the drought.

Mrs. Robert Roblin and her guests, Miss Helen Reing and Mrs. Harry L. Randall of Bay City, have returned from Mackinac Island after a week's outing.

County Treasurer John Hum left this morning with his pile driving crew and machinery for South Branch township, where they will commence work in the foundation for a fine new cement bridge to cross the AuSable River.

George Howes and Miss Gladys Sholtz, both of Beaver Creek, were united in marriage in this city last Thursday, July 20. Justice Mahon performed the ceremony.

Grandstand Morality or Repentance?

One thing is very clear as politicians begin to set the stage for the upcoming election, morality in America will be a strong issue. Four years ago there was much talk about "born-again" candidates and "honesty" in government. With some 50 million protestants claiming to be "born-again" and another 30 million conservative Roman Catholics who strongly support morality, the politicians now know they can ignore us no longer. Many of us labored hard 4 years ago questioning candidates about moral issues. They ignored us at that time, but since realize we are here to stay.

Many people have felt God is already bringing judgment upon America, and that may be true. However, it appears God is giving us another chance to repent and reinstate some of the moral fiber which built our great nation. For the first time in my memory, candidates are dealing with some of the moral issues which have almost destroyed us. Many of us went to Lansing and other state capitals across America and demanded a return to morality. We united our hearts in prayer before our government officials and requested God to move in their hearts.

The sexual revolution in America has spawned fornication and adultery like a deadly plague. As this sin sickness progressed it produced abortion, E.R.A. and other selfish sins. The third stage of this deadly plague now hovers over San Francisco and is spreading rapidly across America. This is that lowest perversion of sex which rejects nature, the family, God, reason, and all purity in sex. It glorifies in sadism, self gratification and the degeneration of both individuals and society. A homosexual is the vilest of sex sinners, living primarily to fulfill his selfish lusts with disregard for his God, his family, his country and his own future.

"If you're covered by an Auto-Owners policy, you can relax. Auto-Owners provides protection automatically under its bodily injury and property damage liability coverage in 'no-fault' states."

"This kind of far-sighted protection is just one of the reasons we recommend Auto-Owners Insurance to the people we serve."

American Viewpoints

We should be careful to get out of an experience all the wisdom that is in it — not like the cat that sits down on a hot stove lid. She will never sit down on a hot stove lid again — and that is well, but also she will never sit down on a cold one anymore.
Mark Twain

Obituaries

Services Held For James Bristow, 70

James E. Bristow, age 70, of Royal Oak, died Sunday, July 20, 1980 at St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac, Michigan. Services were held at Ashley Funeral Home in Hazel Park on Tuesday evening. Visitation will be at Sorenson Funeral Home on Wednesday, July 23, 1980 from 3:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Graveside services will be held Thursday, July 24, 1980 at 10:00 a.m. at the Elmwood Cemetery with Reverend Robert Barnett officiating.

Mrs. Margaret Demick passed away July 2, 1980, in Wyandotte, Michigan. She is survived by one daughter, Pat Korpal, two sons, Bob and Jerry, three sisters, Betty (LaChapelle) McFarlane, of Grayling; Annabell Hosmer and Ethel Beattie of Wyandotte.

THOUGHT FOR FOOD

By GOULD CROOK

Cantaloupes are a treat for hot summer days.

They can serve as a salad, main dish or dessert depending on how they are fixed, say specialists with the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

Melon abrosia, made with melon balls, orange chunks, sliced bananas and shredded coconut, can be either a salad or dessert.

Melon balls in ginger ale or melon rings filled with sherbet, ice cream or cottage cheese are good any time, say the specialists.

For a main dish, fill melon slices or melon halves with chicken salad.

Buy cantaloupes with saucer-like depressions at the stem end. A mature cantaloupe will be covered with netting on the surface that is well raised, coarse and corky.

Ripe cantaloupes will be springy when pressed lightly between the palms.

News of Good Things Growing...

If you're looking for easy alternatives to prepare summer meals without heating your kitchen—look no further than the good things growing in Michigan!

More than 50 major commercial crops are grown in our state, many of which are great for cool, colorful summer fixings—including carrots, green peppers and celery. These fresh vegetables, being harvested now through October, are great for dipping, stuffing, and just munching; for salads, soups and casserole recipes of all kinds.

An estimated 85,650 tons of carrots were marketed in our state last year, the second highest volume fresh market vegetable crop produced here, (Michigan onions are first) and fifth largest carrot harvest in the nation, according to the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Total value at the farm gate was more than $13 million.

Michigan growers market an estimated 11 million pounds of bell peppers each year, worth $3 million in 1979, to rank seventh among green pepper producing states.

Kalamazoo was the birthplace of the nation's celery crop more than 100 years ago. MDA reports this industry is now worth about $11 million to farmers and the state's economy. Michigan farmers grew the third largest crop in the nation last year, 115 million pounds, with Ottawa, Muskegon, Kent and Lapeer counties leading the state production.

Consumers can also take advantage of Michigan's bountiful fields and orchards this summer by stocking up on food supplies for winter use.

For a listing of where you can stock up on Michigan's food supplies from pick-your-own farms and roadside markets, write the Michigan Department of Agriculture for the free publication "Country Carousels", P.O. Box 30017, Lansing, 48909.

WAY TO GO

All the businessman's relatives gathered for the reading of his will, weeping and waiting. Finally, the lawyer began to read: "Being of sound mind and body, I spent every last cent before I died."

Ohio National Guardsman Reclaims Ancestral Hill

While attending the Republican National Convention in Detroit, Michigan, Governor Ronald Reagan of California was busy making plans to take over Capitol Hill after the November, 1980 elections.

Meanwhile, Sergeant First Class Ronald V. Regan, of Canal Fulton, Ohio, was busy reclaiming 'Regan Hill' at Camp Grayling, Michigan.

According to Sergeant Regan, he found the hill while on a map reading maneuver during his annual 'Summer Camp 1980' with the 2nd Squadron, 107th Armored Cavalry, Ohio National Guard.

Regan commented "that the hill was clearly marked on the military maps and he just had to find out more about this Regan fellow who had a hill named after him".

"I began to make local inquiries in the nearby town of Grayling, Michigan", said Regan, "the town is just outside the Camp Grayling boundary. Well, I had great expectations in finding a long lost relative or something, but that was not the case."

"I found rather sketchy information. Nothing really conclusive," continued Regan. However, I decided that if a Regan could have a hill named after him, then hell, the least I could do was to reclaim it for the antiquity of the Regan clan".

Regan further added, "The way I see it this hill is about 200 feet high and covers at least one square mile of real estate right in the middle of Camp Grayling. Since I can not find any evidence of the State of Michigan ever purchasing the land, I believe that the State of Michigan owes me about 3 million dollars!!"

Easy Test

To test a roast chicken for doneness, stick a skewer into the thickest part of the leg. If the juice that runs out is clear (not pink), it's done. You'll also note that the meat has shrunk back somewhat from the ends of the drumsticks.

D.A.V. To Have Busy Season

At the last regular meeting of the Houghton Lake Mid-State Chapter 135 of the Disabled American Veterans we had a report of our successful co-hosting of the State Convention at Traverse City in June. We also had a report of the Roscommon County Fair at which many members of our chapter assisted as a money raising project for future chapter activities.

Our chapter was recently honored by the good news of the appointment of Russel Hose as Aide-De-Camp for all chapters in zone 3. Don Kirkpatrick, Past Commander was appointed to the administrative board of the Dept. of Mich.

At this first meeting under our new Commander Bud Corwin, we formulated plans for a trip to the Saginaw Veteran's Hospital. The sum of $300.00 was authorized for the purchase of four Norelco cordless electric razors to be used by veterans in the wards and provide white socks, bed-room slippers stationary and playing cards for patients who need them. Some members of the chapter and the auxiliary will visit the wards and talk with patients who cannot leave the ward and present them with Coupon books redeemable at the hospital commissary for their private needs. We will also run a bingo for all ambulatory patients in the assembly hall. All prizes will be books of coupons donated by the chapter.

There will be a meeting of the executive board on Thursday, August 14, 1980 at 6:00 p.m. Our Forget-me-not Drive will be on Friday and Saturday, August 22-23.

We are asking for member volunteers to help paint the outside of the Lyons township hall Saturday and Sunday September 6-7. This is in appreciation of our free use of the hall throughout the year.

Plans are being formulated for our annual Picnic which will be held on Sunday, September 14, 1980 at 1:00 p.m. All members and wives are invited. For more information call: Houghton Lake, Peter Mozurkewich 366-7690; Roscommon, Bud Corwin 275-5044.

Howard and Eloise Schmidt of K.P. Lake made a trip to the Metro Airport to take Harold on his return trip to California. While downstate they visited Harold's grandmother, Mrs. Elva Fuhrman of Southfield and Bob and Bev Schmidt of Redford Township.

Donelle Bentley left here June 19th for an 8 week vacation in Las Vegas with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Blair. They went to see the Ice Capades, Lake Mead and many other places worth seeing. On one of their trips they stayed with the Dan Blocker Jr.'s (son of Hoss) overnight. Donelle is due back August 18th.

All-Stars

over the left field fence for a quick two run lead.

Grayling added one run in the third with a single by Trenary, followed by a single by Jim Schrader. Boyne City came back in their half of the third inning with a walk, then three consecutive singles and a couple of outfield errors to tie the game at 3-3.

In the top half of the seventh the score was still tied when Monty D'Amour led off with a single, followed by an out, then Jim Hill hit a run-scoring triple. They intentionally walked Trenary. Jim Schrader then laid down a squeeze bunt and Jim Hill was out at the plate in a very close play. Brad Trenary then scored when Jim Schrader stole second and the Boyne catcher overthrew second base.

Monty D'Amour pitched a strong game giving up only four hits and striking out eight batters. Brad Trenary led the offense with two hits in three at bats, including a home run. Jim Hill also added a triple driving in the winning run in the top of the seventh.

Sunday, July 20, at 4 p.m. Grayling squared off with Gaylord. They defeated Gaylord 11-8 under overcast skies.

Gaylord opened the scoring on one run in the top of the first with a walk and an error. Grayling answered with five runs.

Jim Hill walked, Brad Trenary singled, then Ryan Morford, Don Bancroft and Billy Nelson walked, scoring one run. Jim Schrader came to bat and hit a 3-run double, then scored himself on a passed ball.

In the fourth inning Dave Brooks walked, Monty D'Amour singled in, Jim Hill walked and Brad Trenary hit a three run triple.

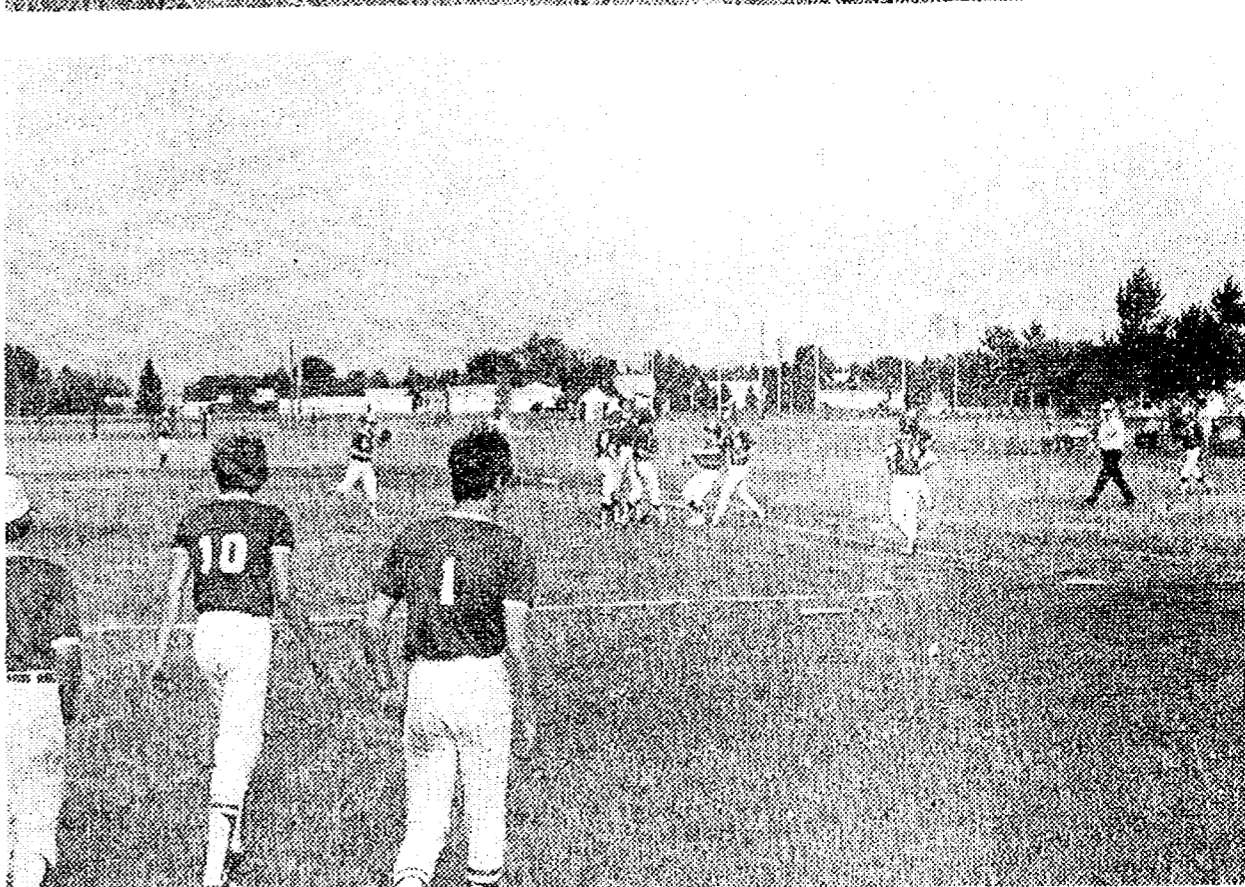

Grayling committed eight errors but their offensive punch and strong pitching by Brad Trenary preserved the lead in the late innings.

Grayling advances to the semi-finals at Petoskey where they will play Charlevoix at 4 p.m. Saturday, at the Petoskey High School Field. To get there, turn left at the light by the Big Boy. As you ascend the big hill coming in to Petoskey, the field is just two blocks on your right.

The Grayling Booster Club will buy the team's lunch after the game at McDonald's of Petoskey.

Allstars Advance in District Play

Grayling's Sr. Division Little League All Star squad took a giant step forward in its quest for the state crown by posting a pair of victories over tough foes in Gaylord last weekend.

The team, managed by Tom Trenary and Vern LaDuke, beat Boyne City Saturday morning, 5-3, then returned Sunday afternoon to outlast Gaylord, 11-8 to gain a berth against Charlevoix in the District Semi-finals.

Monty D'Amour went the distance Saturday to record the win and Brad Trenary registered a complete game in Sunday's win over Gaylord.

The squad travels to Petoskey this Saturday for the 4:00 p.m. contest with the winner advancing to the final game scheduled for Sunday afternoon at 1:30 p.m.

Shown below (in background) is the team celebrating after the last out against Gaylord. Radio Station WGRY will carry the Saturday play-by-play action live from Petoskey and for as long as the local team continues down the tournament trail. ( Joe Schrader photos)

UpNorth

by Michael Delp

The first time I fished the AuSable nine years ago I had an ancient bamboo fly rod given to me by my father and a mind full of visions of huge fish. I fished for weeks with that rod, never coming close to anything which resembled a fish. I knew nothing of flies, and hatches, and the equipment I used to compliment the rod was in ragged condition. I had a fishing vest my father used for bass, a pair of leaky hip boots, tangles of night crawler harnesses and bent-up Mepps spinners. I did not look like a trout fisherman.

So it was that I fished the first year mostly in trees and stump jams. The fish were there. They fed all around me. I came close to netting several, but gave up when the water filled my boots. Then I had the good fortune to meet George Griffith. What the man knows about fishing and trout is well known in the world of fly fishermen. His home was the birthplace of Trout Unlimited and if you spent any time on the river at all you might run into George floating with any number of local experts. The thing that impressed me the most was his equipment. In my hands his gear danced on its own. He shoved a good Scientific Anglers rod into my hand and I was initiated into the world of big time fly fishing.

George showed me how to fish upstream and told me about flies and where trout lived and how to catch them. We fished together alot that summer, and I took my first riverboat trip with him.

Eventually, I moved from George's where I had been a caretaker, and took up residence on the upper sections of the mainstream just above the west M-72 bridge. To say that the fishing is poor there is laughable. There are suckers and pike but no beautiful brook trout. The water is warm and slow—good for inner-tubing, but not much use for serious angling.

As I look back on those first years as a trout fisherman, I realize there are several basic motivations to fishing. One, which I think is the most deep rooted, is that of the sense of adventure. Being in places which are not overly populated or jammed with airstreams and campgrounds. Out there, it's just you and the water and the fish. Perhaps a more primitive urge to trout fishing is that urge to uncover a mystery. We know where trout live and have catalogued their feeding habits until we are able to predict a certain species of may fly hatch on a specific segment of river. But, the mystery remains.

Other writers have likened the search for trout to the search for mermaids. I have secretly fished to the deepest, most remote pools waiting for that first chance.

But, fishing is getting too social for me. I remember the days when I was a kid in Mont-calm county, trudging back to a hidden pond to do some illegal bass fishing. I could fish in blue jeans and ripped tennis shoes and not have to worry about the brand name on my fishing vest or whether my tippets were 6x or 2x. Things weren't crowded then like they are now. I fished opening day and I thought I was at a convention. Men with fishing rods were swarming past me, bumping and grinning, flogging the surface of the water.

Trout fishing is quickly turning from a serious encounter with unknown, and practicing the fine art of deception, to an event worthy of Detroit's Renaissance Center. In fact, they have a good deal of falling water there, and with a little gravel and a few bird calls piped in they could have a "B" version of a trout stream.

In 25 years of fishing I have learned there is still great value in ignoring the urge to buy the best equipment and float the finest silk lines. Most outdoor writers spend a little time in the water and a lot of time with their hand wrapped around a glass at clubs and parties. Because of people like this I am beginning to perceive a need for renegade fishing journalism. If you see me with my hat pulled a bit lower over my eyes and outfitted with a ten year old, grubby fishing vest, patched waders, and a $5.95 reel, I'm in training. Don't bother to stop and say hello or shake my hand, I'm not running for anything, but you might be.

Senior Citizen
Homemaker
Service

Homemaker Service units have now passed the 2,000 mark, 2,026 to be exact. We are so happy to continue to offer these services to all Crawford County Senior Citizens over 60 years of age. With the continued interest and donations we hope that the Homemaker Services program will be a permanent program. Every day that I have worked in this program I become more and more aware of the importance and necessity for the services that this program provides.

To be eligible for these services, you need only be 60 years of age or older and have a health problem, such as illness, injury, arthritis or other handicaps that prevents you from doing the necessary homemaking chores, such as vacuuming, dishwashing, dusting, making beds and light laundry. This program also provides limited transportation services, such as taking you grocery shopping, doctor appointments and having prescriptions filled. If you are able to take Dial-A-Ride you should utilize this service as this is much less expensive.

There is no charge for this service, however, if you can afford to pay, we do accept donations. This allows us to do more services for more people.

If you, or you know of someone who needs our Homemaker Services, please call the Senior Citizens Center (348-9314) for more information.

Shatner Stars

at CC Playhouse

William Shatner stars in the comedy thriller-chiller Death-trap at the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City from July 29th through August 3rd.

Shatner brings experience from stage, screen, and television to the role of Sidney Bruhl. Best known as Captain James T. Kirk of Star Trek, he has also appeared in his own series Barbary Coast, in the PBS drama Andersonville Trial, and the TV movie The Bastard to name a few. His screen credits include The Brothers Karamazov, Judgement at Nuremberg, The Intruders, and, of course, Star Trek-The Motion Picture. He recently completed a starring role in Kidnapping of the President. On Broadway he starred in The World of Susie Wong, A Shot in the Dark with Julie Harris, and the comedy L'Idiot.

In Deathtrap, Shatner plays a down on his luck playwright. He receives a script from a former student and the play revolves as he plots to make this script his own. Playwright Ira Levin, author of Rosemary's Baby, The Stepford Wives, and The Boys From Brazil has constructed an intricate web by weaving a play within a play. The twists and turns defy the audience to figure out "who does it" until the very last scene.

To find out who done it and how, call the Cherry County Playhouse in the dome of the Park Place Motor Inn at (616) 947-9560.

Continental Singers to Appear Here

The "Continental Singers and Orchestra," currently on their yearly 75-day summer tour, will present a live 90-minute concert of contemporary Christian music on Monday, July 28 at 7:30 p.m. in the Joseph Stripe Auditorium in Grayling High School.

This year's program, entitled "...And There Was Light" will feature selections from a new youth musical by Cam Floria and Jeff Kennedy. Also included will be medleys of favorite praise songs, as well as contemporary gospel songs like "Jehoshaphat's Song" by Don Francisco and Dallas Holm's "Rise Again" and great standards such as "How Great Thou Art."

The 25 vocalists and 11 instrumentalists are selected by audition from thousands of high school and college-age young people from across the nation. Auditions are held after each local concert for singers, instrumentalists and technical staff for future tours. The program has proven so popular among young performers wanting to join the tours that they have grown from one group in 1967 to twelve groups this year. Since 1967, they have recorded 16 record albums.

Since Cam Floria organized the first group, various editions of the Continental Singers and Orchestra have made more than 5,000 live appearances in the U.S. and over 1,400 foreign appearances before more than 3.5 million people. Besides performing in all fifty states, they have toured Canada, Great Britain and Ireland, eastern and western Europe, plus Russia, Poland, Yugoslavia, the Middle East, South America, Australia, New Zealand, the South Pacific, the Far East, and the Caribbean Islands.

Traveling from 100 to 500 miles seven days a week by bus, boat, and plane, they will perform nightly during the summer tour. Concerts are held in churches, auditoriums, outdoor pavilions and military bases. The continentals are completely self-contained with their own sound and lighting equipment.

While each member of the group has been rehearsing independently at home before coming together, the summer begins with an intensive rehearsal camp in the Los Angeles area, where they meet as a group for the first time. In a short 10-day training period, 260 singers and 175 instrumentalists turn into 12 professional-sounding performing groups.

Financing for this non-profit organization based in Thousand Oaks, California, is unique. Each member raises part of his or her expenses on his own, with the remainder being supplied by free-will offerings taken at the concerts.

The concert at Grayling High School will begin at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, July 28. Following the concert, auditions will be held for interested local young people. Admission is free, and an offering will be taken to help support the ministry of the Continentals.

Sandra K. Schmoock

Finally, you have decided to sell your home, and you have decided to sell on your own.

Are you aware of all the things you will have to do in order to accomplish this feat? Have you had a recent appraisal done so that you are confident that your home is priced right? Are you prepared to qualify your buyers and advise them as to the best mortgage to suit their needs? Do you have your "Offer to Purchase" completed so that all you will need is the Buyers signature? Will your taxes be prorated in "advance or arrears"? What about advertising? Are you prepared to place ads in downstate and out-of-state papers to attract the out-of-town buyers? 5 out of 10 buyers in our area are out-of-town buyers and are good prospects as they need to locate quickly.

If you have prepared for all of this, then you should realize a smooth transaction. If not, why not stop or call ERA Keith Dressel Realty.

Draining the Social Security Fund

Reports of the Social Security Pension Fund running out of money are surfacing again, and this time the threats are very specific. Social Security fund trustees say benefits for 35 million retired Americans may run out as soon as late 1981 or early 1982.

Despite this gloomy forecast, Social Security recipients shouldn't get overly-excited that their incomes are going to be cut off. Congress would never allow that to happen.

What's happened to allow the Social Security fund to get in such bad shape?

Social Security is divided into three areas of benefits; retirees, disabled, and medical coverage for both these categories. The retirees fund is the only one threatening to be depleted. The basic reason this fund is experiencing such a shortage is because the cost of living has risen so rapidly in recent years, that benefits have had to be dramatically increased. We will be paying out an additional $17 billion a year in benefits when a 14.3 percent cost of living increase takes effect in July.

Fortunately, there are some ways to keep the fund from draining itself. Social Security officials are pushing for a plan that would allow them to borrow money for the retirees from the other two categories, which aren't experiencing such a financial squeeze. This would probably serve as a temporary remedy. Eventually, Congress is going to have to come up with a way to permanently finance the program, perhaps by supplementing the fund through general revenues. Other revision plans are being kicked around, including one that would raise the age of the eligible retiree beyond 65 years of age.

The important thing on this issue is to understand that some sort of solution will be found. Retirees or their survivors will not be left in the cold.

Tight Lease on Prisoner Disability Benefits

I have received a tremendous amount of support on a Social Security bill that I cosponsored last November. H.R. 5610 would prohibit payment of disability benefits to individuals who are confined in some type of correctional institution.

That piece of legislation now has 113 cosponsors and has been backed by the great majority of those testifying before hearings held in Washington D.C. last week. Today, with the retiree's Social Security fund running into financial problems, it seems even more ridiculous to be paying benefits to convicted prisoners. By some estimates, this type of government payment is costing the taxpayers $60 million a year.

Some of the examples of this abuse are remarkable. In one case, a youth is receiving survivor benefits after he killed his parents. And New York's infamous "Son of Sam" murderer continues to receive Social Security benefits of $300 a month. This is one bill that must be passed. We're hoping the House will consider it before the end of this session.

Middle Bracket

Many Americans are in the middle income bracket. They make too much money to buy food stamps and not enough to buy postage stamps.

Bits O'Talk

By Fay Bovee

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Akers, Mrs. Fern Duncan, and Don Akers attended the funeral of their uncle, Martin Akers, in Bay City, on Tuesday, July 8. Also visiting at the LeRoy Akers for several days last week were another brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. George Akers of Milwaukee.

Mrs. Aggie Trudgeon spent from Monday to Friday in Sault Ste. Marie, Mi., visiting her parents, the Rene Savoies. Her father has been hospitalized for several weeks.

Frank Doty's Aunt Margaret from Kiel, Germany, has arrived to spend a month with Frank and Joanne in Traverse City. They all enjoyed dinner with the Tom Welshes at Lake Margrethe last Friday evening.

Doug Stirling of Tryon, N. Car., and Bill Palmer of Saginaw have been in Alaska where they went to do some fishing. While he was gone, his wife, Betty, and daughter, Debbie, of Washington, D.C., have been spending the time between Cass City where they visited Mrs. Nelle Maharg, and Grayling at the Tom Welshes and at the Bill Palmer cottage on the AuSable.

Major Joe LaGrow and Major Melvin Nunn have completed their two week training at Ft. McCoy, Wis. They have now completed the Camp Command and Staff School.

National Reye's Syndrome Foundation

We would like to give special thanks to two very hard working groups in our area for their fund-raising efforts.

First, is our Ladies Home Extension Group from Lovell's who took in over $100 from their 4th of July Flea Market. A special thanks to Lottie Harris who manned the Reye's table all day.

Secondly, our sincere gratitude to our great group of Grayling Jaycees who took in $200 from their peanut sales.

Last but not least was our 50/50 Drawing held on July 11. Our lucky winning was Mrs. Iris Corr who won $148.25. The other $148.25 was donated to the Foundation. Also, Mrs. Corr has graciously donated $48.25 of her winnings back into the Foundation.

A special thanks to all those who made these fund-raisers so successful. And know that the monies you worked so hard for will be for research and awareness in our continued effort to fight Reye's Syndrome.

- Are you going to Vote for a Candidate, because he is a friend, a relative, a nice guy, or because he is qualified as an Administrator, as well as a Law Enforcement Officer?
- The Sheriff's budget runs about $390,500.00. This is quite a sum to put in the hands of someone, who has little or no Administrative experience.
- The Sheriff's job is about 90% Administrative. The days of the Sheriff answering most of the calls (complaints) is long gone. The Sheriff commands about 24 personnel at the present time.
- Since 1972 the Deputies have been unionized. The Sheriff must be able to work with the Deputies, and stay within the Rules of the Union Contract.
- The Sheriff must be able to work and get along with the County Commissioners. They are the people, who manage and control the County Budget.
- The Sheriff should have the ability to write and apply for Grant funding. [which is no small chore]
- I ask you again—are you Voting for your Candidate, because he is a friend, a relative, a nice guy, or qualified.

The Pat Harwood "Lovells Open" at Wilderness Valley Sept. 7th

Plans are in the making for the 1980 "Lovells Open" Golf Tournament at Wilderness Valley Course in memory of the founder of the event, Pat Harwood.

Last year's tourney was a great success with 37 participants, and hopefully this year we anticipate twice that amount.

Many of Grayling's men participated beating the Lovells group by 3 strokes per man. This year however, Lovells is counting on golfers not able to attend last year to beef up their team and take the coming honors.

Tom St. Germain from Grayling was awarded the Pat Harwood Trophy last year for his fine play. The trophy has been on display in Lovells business establishments throughout the past 12 months.

In the coming event we look forward to friends from Lewiston and downstate to join in the festivities.

The date has been set for Sunday, September 7th, with the usual, 18 holes golf, riding cart, prizes, trophies, all you can eat and drink at the picnic following, for only $20.00 each.

For further information please call-in Lovells, Walt Leibold, 348-5729 or Fred Schaibly, 348-8172 and in Grayling, Mark Hartman, 348-5633.

Kids Theater to Open July 29

By Michael Delp
For Sue Prause, Kid's
Theatre Director, and Sue
Sommerville, her Assistant

Director, the day's rehearsal begins in chaos. There are twenty or thirty eager actors and actresses sitting in the auditorium seats waiting to jump up on stage. Some squirm. Others play games or laugh and chase each other. Then the stage lights come up and the scene changes.

For both Sue's Kid's Theatre is a unique way for kids to learn new skills and to overcome fear and shyness. For Sue Prause "it's fulfilling to see that you've taught something, and that you can share your stage experiences and give kids good memories about the stage." And Sue has a keen awareness of each child's role, both in the play and in real life, for she adds, "you have to remember they're kids, you can't expect them to be totally professional."

The professional quality of their abilities becomes evident when you watch their faces on stage. They get serious about what they're doing, and they listen to criticism and direction. Some are veterans, having had experience in previous summer Kid's Theatre productions, and some, even Sue Sommerville, are learning new aspects of theatre every rehearsal.

Sue Sommerville has been directing for only five weeks. Yet, though she lacks the seasoning of a Broadway professional, she too has an enthusiastic attitude toward her players. "I individualize kids, she says. I find their special problems and deal with those. For example, if they're boisterous, I try to calm them down and make them more relaxed," and Sue adds that both she and Sue Prause "try to teach the quality of things and to respect things."

They practice four days a week. Some of them have given up baseball and swimming. Others have forgotten the chance to just lie around for the summer. Instead they rehearse and repeat line after line. They dance and sing, and practice turning their energy into polished skill.

On July 29th and July 31, community residents will have a special opportunity to watch "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland" and will be able to see a musical, "The Fabulous Fable Factory" July 31st and August 1st. All performances will begin at 8 p.m. at the Joseph Stripe Auditorium. Tickets are $2.00 and are good for one performance of each play.

It will be $2.00 well-spent. Not only will you see a bunch of kids have a lot of fun, but you'll also be able to watch the beginnings of many kid's careers in Grayling Theatre.

Mrs. Gordie Howe Visits ABWA

The American Business Women's Association of Grayling had a very special guest speaker at their June meeting, Mrs. Colleen (Gordie) Howe.

Mrs. Howe spoke about her career, her private life and her family. She was born in Michigan, spent her pre-school years in Sandusky prior to moving to Metro Detroit.

Colleen has been involved in charity and community projects for many years, serving on the boards of Michigan 4-H Foundations, March of Dimes, Management of the Detroit Jr. Wings of the U.S. Amateur Hockey program, and many more. She spearheaded the formulation of the first successful Jr. A Hockey Club in the United States, the Detroit Jr. Wings and managed that club for 3 years. For the past 10 years Colleen has managed and coordinated Howe Enterprises which controls all of the investments and functions of the Howe family. She currently serves as President of that company.

Colleen enjoys sailing and snowsking, but most of all she enjoys her family and friends. In addition to her famous spouse she has the uniqueness of being mother to Marty and Mark, who have established hockey stardom in their own right. Colleen is the author of a book published by Hawthorn Press, entitled, "My Three Hockey Players."

ABWA would like to thank Mrs. Howe for sharing her insights with us and we hope she will visit us again.

Chop Raisins

A quick way to chop raisins is to freeze them first and then twirl them for a few minutes in your blender. Frozen raisins will not gum up in the blender. However, do only half cup at a time and remove from the blender immediately.

The people win a big one

RICHARD MILLIMAN

In Pursuit of the Fairness Doctrine, let's all give a resounding cheer for the Nine Old Men—well, at least seven of them anyway.

Hooray for the Supreme Court of the United States!

Like many newspaper folk, I am free with my criticism when the Supreme Court comes down with a ruling which I think jeopardizes the Constitution, especially the people's right to know as guaranteed by the First Amendment.

So this time, I shall be free with my praise because the Supreme Court has clarified a murky situation to the benefit of the people's right to know, thus bulwarking the First Amendment protection of press freedom.

By a 7-1 vote, with one abstention, the Supreme Court has ruled that the public has a constitutional right to attend criminal trials.

That ruling seems rather simple, because this is what the law and practice generally have been doing through the years. But about a year ago, in the case of Gannett vs. DePasquale, the Supreme Court decided that a court could close its doors on certain judicial proceedings; in the DePasquale case, certain pre-trial activities were held in secret.

In a frightening rush, more than 260 attempts to close judicial proceedings followed; it almost seemed as if many judges just were waiting for a chance to lock the public out of the courtrooms.

The Gannett decision has another fascinating sidelight; four or five court members, including Chief Justice Warren Burger, went to the unusual lengths of commenting publicly on the Gannett ruling, generally cautioning that the decision may not cover everything that some people were ascribing to it.

Apparently, it didn't.

The latest decision involved a murder trial in Virginia, where a circuit judge conducted an entire two-day murder trial behind closed doors. The Richmond newspapers took the matter to court.

Writing the majority decision, Burger said:

"A trial courtroom is a public place where the people generally—and representatives of the media—have a right to be present, and where their presence historically has been thought to enhance the integrity and quality of what takes place."

Burger said that only for "compelling" or "overriding" reasons could a trial be held in secret. Those are two mystifying words, but apparently refer to such circumstances as national security, to preserve order in the courtroom, personal safety of the principals, or other such things.

Only Justice William Rehnquist dissented from the result; Justice Lewis Powell, who practiced law in Richmond most of his life, didn't take part in the case.

Justice John Paul Stevens, in his concurring opinion, saw even greater import in the decision than open courtrooms. Citing the fact that the decision went to the gathering of news, rather than to the publication of that news, Stevens pointed out that "an arbitrary interference with access to important information is an abridgment of the freedoms of speech and of the press protected by the First Amendment."

The decision should be a cause of jubilation for all American citizens. The specter of secret trials is a frightening one, and the fact that more than 260 judges across the country gravitated toward secrecy in the courtroom during the past year is almost as frightening. Now, under the Richmond decision, maybe the freshness of open court proceedings will be more assured.

You will notice I have not hailed this decision as a victory for the press. It is not. It is a victory for the people.

Read the Constitution carefully. Under the constitutional form of operating our government, the rights belong to the people. The press, and other instruments of society and government, get involved only as they represent the people. The press enters the courtroom to monitor the legal proceedings and to report on what's happening only as a representative of the people.

If the courtroom is closed—or if any government retreats behind closed doors to conduct our business—it is the public which is being shut out, it is the people who suffer.

Unfortunately the relationship tends to get blurred because of misconceptions on both sides—by the people and by representatives of the press.

That the Richmond decision was issued during the first week of July is, to me, a happy coincidence. July 4th, after all, is Independence Day.

JOYCE EASTERLY—If you look in the right places at the County Court House you'll see some of Joyce Easterly's paintings. For fifteen years she's painted as a hobby and her oils and acrylics can be found in inner offices and hanging over courtroom doors. She and her husband live on the AuSable River where they have a fine collection of Crawford County memorabilia. The painting Joyce is holding above depicts a riverboat scene on the AuSable and will soon grace the wall of a local law enforcement officer's den. (Photo by Michael Delp)

Fine Arts Festival Scheduled For August at Roscommon

In August Roscommon will be the center for the 11th Annual Fine Arts Festival. The Roscommon Chamber Music Society Arts Council annually sponsors summer events which provide culture and entertainment to the area. The line-up this year is similar to that of past years. There is one difference. Music, art and song will be available in a concentrated dose during the first three weeks in August.

The Northwood Symphonette will perform on Friday, August 1 at 8:30 p.m. at the Roscommon High School. Tickets are $5.00 and $3.00 to senior citizens and students. Don Th. Jaeger is the conductor for the symphonette. The guest artist will be Karen Smith, a soprano soloist from Traverse City, who will sing selections from Samuel Barber. Tickets will be available at the door and at the Roscommon Hardware & Northern Drug in Roscommon and the Pine Pantry at Higgins Lake. Last year the Northwood Symphonette enjoyed a successful premiere summer session.

On Saturday, August 9, Art in the Park, now a tradition in Roscommon, will be held at Wallace Park on the AuSable. Painting, photography, pottery and other art works will be available for show and sale. Art in the park provides the opportunity to buy directly from the artist, usually at a savings. The art fair should appeal to all art lovers as well as early Christmas shoppers and those looking for a good investment during this period of inflation. The hours scheduled for art in the park are 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. Strolling musicians and art experiences for children will add to the festive atmosphere and to the enjoyment of all age groups.

On the following day, Sunday, August 10, the art fair will continue at Higgins Lake at the Roscommon State Bank driveway in the shopping center. The hours will be 11:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

On Saturday, August 16 at 8:00 p.m. the OTSU Japanese Children's Choir will perform at the Roscommon High School. About 45 junior and senior high school students are musicians in this group from OTSU, Japan. Their visit to Roscommon is part of the Blue Lake International Exchange Program. The Roscommon Chamber Music Society Arts Council makes arrangements for local families to house and host the students while they are in Roscommon from August 14-17. The concert is free of charge with donations accepted at the door.

Around the World With Steve Rison

EDITORS NOTE—This is part two in a five part series covering Steve Rison's "Trip Around the World".

I last wrote from a hill station in Northern India which proved to be the turning point of my Indian experience. As I indicated previously, my initial week in India was filled with many frustrations, however, my remaining weeks were as fantastic as my first was a real bummer.

I left the quiet solitude of Mussoorie, India after a few days back in late April and took another long overnight train trip to Jammu, a large city located on the north Indian plains between the states of Punjab and Kashmir, which also was the end of the railroad line. The trip was tiring and somewhat trying but my few days in the mountains contributed immensely to my ability to deal more patiently with the now recognizable "normal" operation of Indian rail service. In Jammu I transferred to a bus to begin the 12 hour trip to the center of the Kashmir Valley. I was appreciatively provided with a front seat and thereby afforded a bird's eye view of spectacular mountains, terraced valleys, unique mountain villages and steep (and I mean steep!) drop-off cliffs along which our bus zipped passing on curves and blowing its horn continuously. The horn, incidentally, seems to be more important than the brakes in many Asian countries and without doubt has greater utilization. The road conditions left something to be desired as the barriers to the steep cliffs were scant at best and non-existent generally. I did get some great photos, though, straight down to the river valleys thousands of feet below without leaving my seat! The sights were breathtaking and majestic and all tolled made for one of my most memorable and enjoyable rides. I even saw a road crew which included an elephant.

We eventually passed through the mountains including a 4 mile tunnel and came out into the Kashmir Valley which presented a dramatic contrast to the dusty dry hot summer of India. Here we found spring—the valley lush with greens and yellows, wildflowers, warm breezy temperatures and surrounded by the still partially snowcovered Himalayas.

Arriving in Shrinagar, the capital of Kashmir, in early evening I was directed to a houseboat where I decided to stay for most of the week. As there is a large lake and numerous canals in and around Shrinagar, houseboats are a major source of accommodation providing a wide choice of classes and types. I stayed on the "New Lucifer" which reminded me of a stately old hotel with stuffed sofas, brocade drapes, carpeting, carved walnut dining room table and hutch, white linen tablecloths, fine china, made-to-order meals and buzzers everywhere to call a servant or the most hospitable owners for "anything at anytime"—all for $6.00 a day! I could have arranged for "cheaper" and less extravagant surroundings but I thought I deserved a splurge.

The Ohio Area Command has been eagerly anticipating the two-week training period scheduled for Camp Grayling this summer. This area is ideally suited to the needs of our soldiers, both for training and off-duty recreational activities.

I believe that many Ohio Guard men and women, along with their families, have a special feeling for the community and residents around the Camp Grayling area. The hospitality extended to us and the friendships formed have had a lasting affect on the morale of all Ohio National Guard personnel. This fine relationship helps to make our training both productive and enjoyable.

On behalf of all of Ohio's citizen-soldiers please accept my thanks for your warm welcome and support.

Ohio Area Command, Cavalry Troops Kick Up Dust at Grayling

Another annual training period for Ohio National Guard personnel at Camp Grayling is nearing a successful completion.

The nearly 2,300 troops of the Ohio Area Command, including the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment, are under the command of Major General Robert W. Teater. General Teater, who in civilian life is director of natural resources for the State of Ohio, noted that training at the Michigan facility is always productive and this encampment is no exception.

General Teater also stated that the hospitality shown members of the Ohio Guard through the years by people in the Grayling area has contributed much to making the annual summer training periods both productive and enjoyable.

A number of interesting training activities have taken place during the camp period. Some of these included a combat decathlon involving athletic and military skills, weapons firing and visits by high-ranking military leaders and hometown dignitaries.

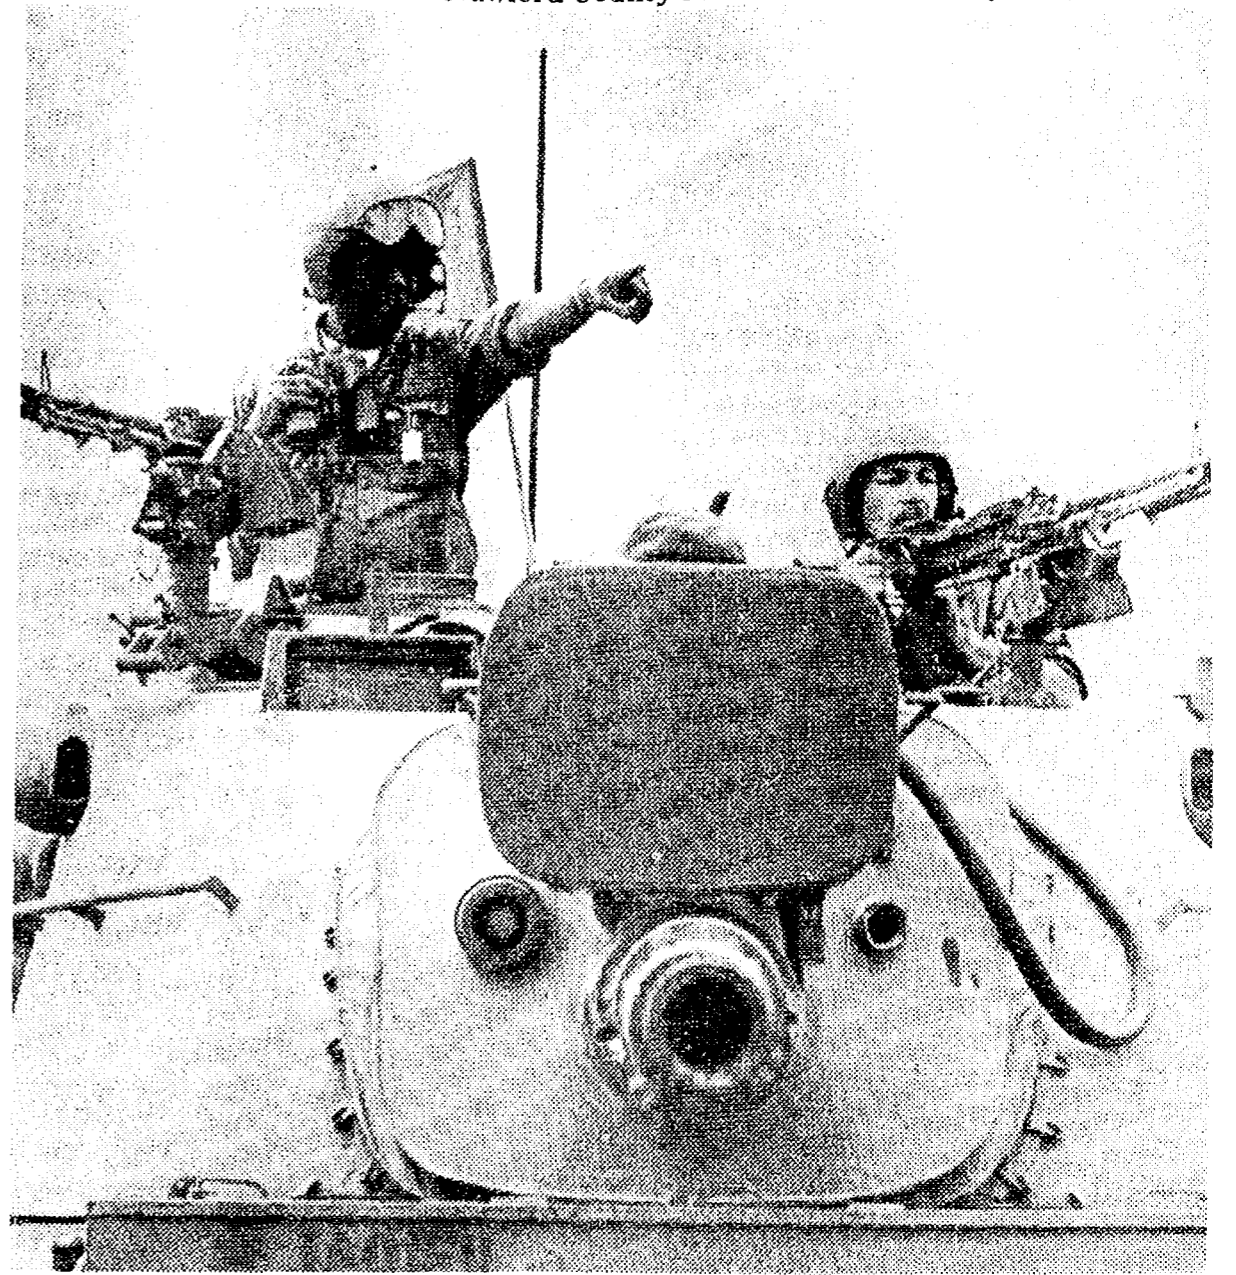

There was even a rumor that a ferocious little animal called a piranhamonk, a cross between a piranha fish and a chipmunk, was on the loose.

One of the highlights of training was a visit on July 22 by General E.C. Meyer, chief of staff of the U.S. Army. General Meyer inspected the proficiency of tank crews of the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

The 107th is a totally mobile fighting force that can be compared to the old "horse soldiers" of the cavalry in the American West.

On Monday members of the military affairs committee of the Grayling Chamber of Commerce were guests of General Teater at lunch and were then escorted on a tour of some training activities. They viewed a weather station operated in support of the field units and saw a demonstration of a mobile bridge that can be launched from a tank-like vehicle.

Blue Bolt is De-Bugged

Blue Bolt is getting the bugs out at Camp Grayling. "In Navy terms this is a shake-down cruise—a time to get the bugs out," said CPT Jon Ferrall, commander of the 180th Communications Flight (Support) in Toledo, Ohio.

Cpt. Ferrall was speaking about a large blue trailer-type van parked high atop a hill overlooking Camp Grayling and Lake Margrethe. Nicknamed Blue Bolt, the van is packed with some of the most sophisticated communications gear. And it could communicate with any place in the United States by nearly any means short of sending smoke signals.

The mobile communications center was obtained from the state's Highway Patrol for use as a communications link in a forward command post. It could be used in the event of some type of natural or civil disaster within the State of Ohio.

MAJ. JOHN HARMER, assistant military support officer for the Ohio National Guard speaks with people at locations across the United States.

The center is completely self-contained according to CPT Ferrall. It has its own power source, water, heating and cooling system and can be linked to any type of communications equipment from civilian telephones to high-frequency radios used by the military.

"Currently," said CPT Ferrall, "we have established communication links with Fifth Army Headquarters at Ft. Sam Houston, Texas and Ft. Knox, Kentucky."

Weather Will Be Nice-Eventually

The weather for today is: "It will be a nice day—eventually."

Operating in support of the 107th Armored Cavalry's air and ground operations is the 163rd Weather Flight, from Fort Wayne, Indiana. Commanded by Air Guard LTC John Slagle, the unit provides both pilots and field commanders with up-to-the-minute weather information that could influence the outcome of a battle.

Says LTC Slagle: "Weather forecasting is still an art."

MAJ. STAN MOLTON and MSG Handley Jackson analyze weather data at the Grayling airfield.

SSG JOE WELSH, 180th Communications Flight (Support), checks out communications equipment on Blue Bolt, a communications van belonging to the Ohio National Guard.

TANKS AND OTHER ARMORED vehicles of the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment kick up Camp Grayling's sandy terrain during field exercises.

Combat Decathlon Makes Splash on Grayling Beach

While the Olympics have turned into a non-event for American athletes, some men in the Ohio National Guard have found their own substitute.

Several members of the 3/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment are involved in an event involving a mix of athletic abilities and military skills.

Winner of the swimming event, in a time of 61 seconds, was SSG Richard Bennett of I Troop, 3/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment, Stowe, Ohio.

Bennett is a former Marine Corps member who decided to continue his military career in the National Guard. He is attending college on the Ohio Guard's tuition assistance program.

SSG RICHARD BENNETT, I Troop, 3/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment, swims for his life.

The swimming event, done while...wearing full uniform...and carrying an M-16 rifle, attracted spectators at Lake Margrethe.

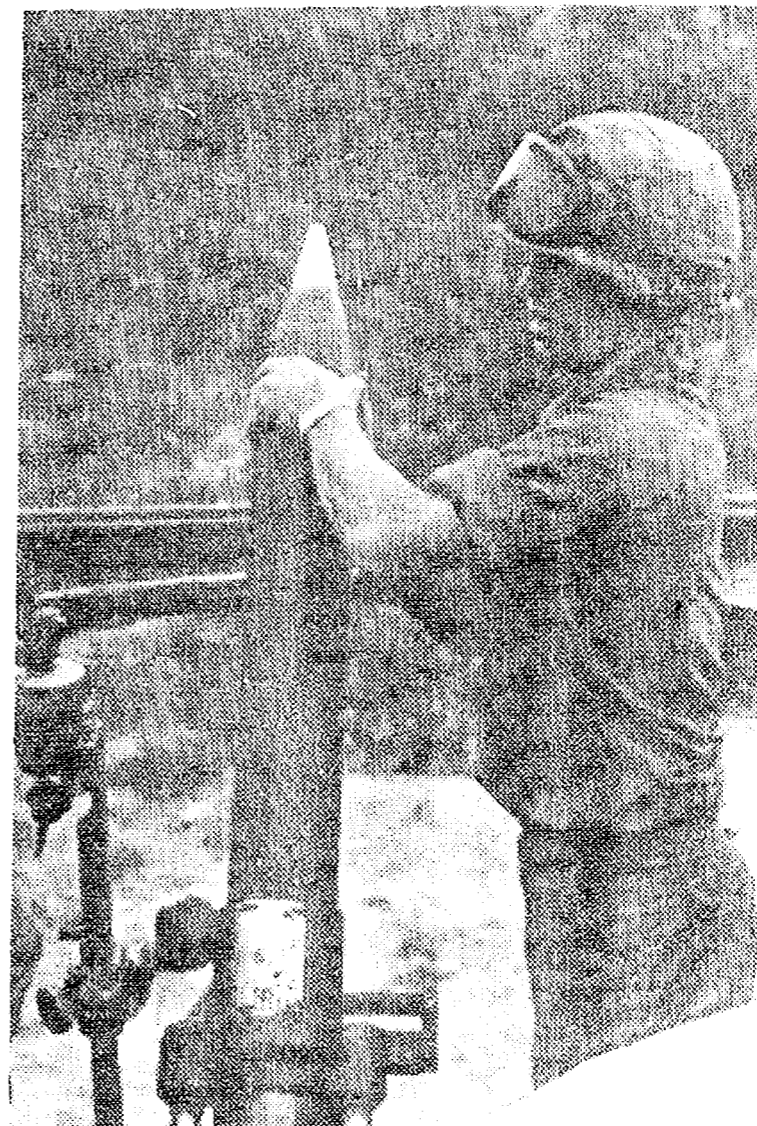

It's a combat decathlon with 10 different events. Some events completed at Camp Grayling include the four-mile forced march, a command obstacle course and a 30 meter combat swim.

The swimming event, done while the individual is wearing full fatigue uniform, boots, pistol belt, canteen, pack straps and carrying an M-16 rifle, attracted spectators at Lake Margrethe.

"UH...EXCUSE me, Miss, I've just captured this beach and everything on it."

Mortar Firing is Ear-splitting Excitement

MORTAR FIRE—Training for men of 2nd Platoon, K Troop, 3/107th Armored Cavalry Regiment was going down the tubes last week on one of Camp Grayling's many firing ranges. PFC Bryan Loucks, SGT. ## Attends G.O.P.

Convention

On Friday and Saturday, June 6th and 7th, the Michigan State Republican Convention was held at the Silverdome in Pontiac. Attending from Crawford County, a portion of Congressional District 11, was Mike Anthony of Grayling.

Mike reports that activities of the convention included the discussion of basic issues to be pursued by the Republican party this year, as well as the election of National Committeeman and Committeewoman from the State of Michigan and the election of delegates to the National Convention to be held in Detroit in mid July.

In addition, the convention heard such speakers as Governor Milliken, former U.S. Senator Robert Griffin, and the keynote speaker; U.S. Senator Howard Baker of Tennessee. Also present at the 11th District caucus were U.S. Rep. Bob Davis and former U.S. Rep. Phil Ruppe who took active roles in the convention process.

The convention closed on a unified note as Governor Milliken declared his wholehearted support for Ronald Reagan, the parties obvious presidential candidate, in spite of his earlier support of George Bush in the Michigan primary.

Pine Trade

A couple of old friends ran into each other on a city street and began discussing the cute little dog one gent was taking for a walk. "Oh, what a cute little pup," commented the first. "I got it for my wife," beamed the other. "How'd you ever manage a fine trade like that?" was the incredulous reply.

THE OLD WAY

The old pump handle was the counterpart of our modern water faucet. You simply had to be thirsty enough to want to pump water.

New ways often bring little that's new. They just make it easier to satisfy our necessities.

But those who spiritually thirst—for souls that are dry, there is no new way. There is no way to pipe the water of a new life into the soul of man.

It isn't difficult to overcome the spiritual drought of our time. But you've got to realize your own thirst for God. And you've got to draw on the deep, refreshing resources where they are. Let the church or synagogue of your choice help you rediscover the old way.
